NEW OFFICERS ARE NAMED AT SUNDAY SCHOOL SESSION

JOHN CAMPHOUSE IS PRESIDENT OF ASSOCIATION; EXCELLENT PROGRAM PRESENTED

The annual convention of the Glendale District Sunday School association was held yesterday in the First Methodist church and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, John Camphouse, West Glendale Methodist; vice-president, George W. Tyrrell, Casa Verdugo Methodist; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Eva M. Hutton, Central Christian; children's division superintendent, Mrs. H. W. Yarick, Congregational; young people's division superintendent, Miss Bessie Field, Presbyterian; adults' division superintendent, Rev. E. Hoskin, First Methodist; administrative division superintendent, W. B. Kirk, Central Christian.

Flag Is Presented

At the evening session, song service led by Roy O. Youtz, was followed by a roll call of classes by State Secretary Hugh C. Gibson. At the close of the meeting a flag was presented to the First Systematic Bible Study class of the First Methodist church for having twenty-six of its thirty-one members present.

Speaking on "The Task of the New Day and Our Opportunity in Christian Education," Thomas V. Ellzey, a Texan, who was called from his ranch in the cow country to take charge of the Sunday School campaign at Dallas by Judge W. F. Ramsay, head of the eleventh federal reserve district, declared that "our boys lie in Flanders' fields where poppies grow, having died there to make the world safe for democracy and humanity. Our task now is to make the world safe for childhood."

Lack Religious Education

According to Mr. Ellzey there are 105,000,000 people in the United States and 27,000,000 receive no religious education.

"Think of it," he declared. "More than 25 per cent of this nation is lost to God. We must bring this country back to righteousness."

In the principal address of the evening, Dr. John G. Hill of the University of Southern California spoke on "The Adult Class, Its Function in the

SOCIAL AFTERNOON IS GIVEN FRIENDS

MRS. GEORGE PRATT IS HOSTESS IN HONOR OF HOUSE GUEST, MRS. WILLIAM DIGGLES

Mrs. George Pratt of 356 Myrtle street entertained at cards Saturday afternoon in honor of her house guest, Mrs. William Diggles, who left yesterday for San Francisco on her way home to Portland, Oregon.

Other guests were Mrs. Wilbur H. Boothby, Mrs. Ed Wolbach, Mrs. Jas. Trotter, Mrs. J. H. Folz, Mrs. Charles Pendleton, Mrs. Walter Levins and daughter Sue and Mrs. Ernest Whitall of Los Angeles.

High score at 500 was made by Mrs. Pendleton and consolation prize was won by Mrs. Boothby.

The hostess served a dainty lunch and a very pleasant afternoon was enjoyed. Decorations were of California poppies, sweet peas and other spring flowers.

League Will Meet At School Tonight

At a meeting of the newly elected officers of the West Glendale Progressive league held at the home of Miss Isabel M. Barrett, it was decided to open the discussion on the proposed city charter in a manner which will give its members an opportunity to express opinions for and against the issue. It was further planned to have the legislation and advisory committees appointed openly.

It is urged that all members and those interested, but not yet members, make an effort to be present at the high school tonight at 7:45 o'clock.

Class For Stammerers To Be Formed Here

Professor O. H. Ennis, specialist in the prevention of stammering, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Federation of Parent-Teacher associations to be held Wednesday, March 9, at 3:15 o'clock in the Intermediate school.

It is planned that a class for stammerers will be arranged.

Do Birds Have Teeth? Ask Jim Or Bill, For Eddie Wasn't Present

"Naw, them birds wasn't hungry. Its mother was just cleaning its teeth."

"Aw, gwan. Yuh dunno wot yer talking about. She was a dangling angling worms down its throat. I know. Cause don't I dig up them same kinda worms for fishing? Yuh betcha life I do."

"Well, have it yer own way, but I saw the pitchers, too, and I know what I know when I see it. Ain't that right, Eddie?"

But Eddie hadn't been at the illustrated bird lecture yesterday which Dr. William L. Finley delivered at the Palace Grand theater. All of the city schools' nature departments turned out en masse for the event, Dr. Finley being the traveling lecturer for the Audubon society and one of America's foremost authorities on bird life.

With motion pictures and "stills" he showed the life of feathered friends in their native haunts from the time they break out of "shell quarantine" until they fly away.

It was the period between hatching and flying, however, about which Willie, Johnnie and Eddie had the argument this morning, for the close-ups showed the hungry fledglings awaiting "breakfast, dinner and supper."

Miss Helen White, accompanied by Miss Gladys Sharp, gave two whistling solos in which she imitated the mocking bird's songs.

Special significance added itself to the event, as yesterday was Luther Burbank's birthday, according to Richardson D. White, superintendent of the city school system.

End of Pleasant Day

Little Betty Hitchcock, aged seven, who attends the Acacia avenue school, was at the bird lecture.

When the show was over she accompanied an older girl home.

Then her mother, Mrs. Earl Hitchcock of 1232 Boynton street, notified the police that Betty was lost.

But Betty came home about 9 o'clock in the evening after a perfectly lovely afternoon and evening.

And the police ended their search for a little girl in a "red dress."

Federation Endorses Civic Center Bonds

A special meeting of the Federated Brotherhoods was held in the First Methodist church Sunday school rooms here last night, representatives of the First Methodist, Presbyterian, First Baptist, Central Christian, Congregational, West Glendale and Casa Verdugo Methodist churches being present.

Arthur G. Lindley, president of the Federation, called the meeting's attention to the bond and charter elections and spoke of the great interest which the Brotherhoods have in the establishment of municipal civic centers, where wholesome recreation can be furnished under proper surroundings.

The Federation representatives again indorsed the civic center and swimming pool propositions and the chair appointed C. D. Lusby, W. B. Kirk, C. W. Ingledue and R. D. White as a campaign committee. Other matters were then taken up, including that of nominations for high school trustees which is covered elsewhere in these columns.

After the brief business meeting, many of the men adjourned to the auditorium where the district Sunday School convention was in session, arriving in time to hear the inspirational address by Dr. John G. Hill, of the University of Southern California.

SAMUEL G. BLYTHE MAY BE SPEAKER BEFORE C. OF C.

NOTED WRITER IN SOUTH AND INVITED TO BE PRESENT AT FORUM WEDNESDAY

You have read much by Samuel G. Blythe.

You have heard a great deal of Sam Blythe.

And now the opportunity is offered to see and hear Mr. Blythe in Glendale.

There is little need to introduce this world-traveled, widely-renowned author of articles which principally appear in the Saturday Evening Post. He has written political articles for longer than one can remember, almost, and is still at it.

Mr. Blythe will be the personal guest of R. S. Person at the Chamber of Commerce noonday Forum luncheon tomorrow unless present plans miscarry.

They Meet Once More

Mr. Person and Mr. Blythe are old-time friends with many common heritages. They were both born and reared in Western New York and later their lives converged in the National Capital for a score of years. Yesterday morning they reviewed the "good old days" at breakfast at the Alexandria hotel.

Mr. Person took advantage of the occasion to extract a promise from his friend to give Glendale the "once over" before he resumes his globe-trotting and, if possible, to time his visit so as to be one of Mr. Person's guests at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon.

Members will welcome Samuel G. Blythe to their midst.

BUYS CORNER LOT; TO BUILD HOMES

JAMES RILEY OF WISCONSIN IS MUCH IMPRESSED BY CITY AND SECURES PROPERTY

Mr. and Mrs. James Riley of Richland county, Wisconsin, who have been spending the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Clarence Smith, at 312 North Kenwood street, left Monday morning for San Francisco, where they will visit their two other daughters before returning east.

Mr. Riley, being much impressed with Glendale, bought the northwest corner of lot at Adams and Wilson and expects to build two bungalows on it this fall.

Verdugo Woodlands Association Meets

The Verdugo Woodlands Improvement association met last night at the Old Adobe in Verdugo canyon, about 30 residents of that section of the city of Glendale being present.

According to City Manager T. W. Watson, who attended the meeting, whatever misunderstanding over the sewer bond issue was cleared up by a letter from the city Board of Trustees to the effect that the $10,000 issue for the disposal works will be taken care of out of the general revenues.

Sentiment last night seemingly was favorable toward the $40,000 issue for the sewer trunk line and $10,000 for the disposal works. The two questions come to a vote on Thursday of this week.

Water supply for that portion of Verdugo canyon not now served by the city also was discussed.

Income Tax Deputy To Give You Assistance

George W. Heidt, a deputy from the internal revenue collector's office in Los Angeles, will be at the council chamber of the city hall from tomorrow, March 9, until March 15, advising persons paying income taxes on the requirements of the law and accepting their returns. This is the last opportunity as the reports must be in before March 15 to avoid penalty.

BICYCLES REPORTED STOLEN

Two bicycles were reported stolen, according to reports to the police department. Ruth Lane of 120 West Doran street says that her wheel was taken from the Doran street school. Mr. Montayne of 436 West Windsor Road lost his bicycle at Forest Lawn cemetery. He saw a Mexican riding away with it, but could not apprehend him.

CITY MANAGER MAKES STATEMENT IN REGARD TO COMING BOND ISSUES

Facts and Figures Are Given in Detail So That People May Have Opportunity to Discuss

In order that a complete understanding of municipal affairs and finances relative to the bond issue about to be submitted to the voters may be had by the public, T. W. Watson, city manager, has prepared a statement to the board of city trustees in which he goes into detail.

The city manager's statement, it is announced, will be given discussion for an hour or more at the meeting of the city trustees Thursday night, March 10, and it is stated the public is invited to be present and participate in the discussion.

The statement of the city manager, containing suggestions, is given in full as follows:

"In discussing the call for $100,000 of bonds to cover the cost of distribution mains that are to be voted upon on the 29th of this month, the question has been raised as to just where these distribution mains are to be laid and if any of the funds derived from these bonds will be available for four-inch service mains; this latter question is being raised at this time on account of propositions for the improvement of several streets that are under consideration at this time by the property holders thereon, the desire of these property holders being that new pipes be laid on these streets before the streets are improved.

"If it were just the laying of pipes on these several streets, this would be comparatively a small matter and possibly it could be taken care of out of the proposed $100,000 issue. A question of policy is involved therein, however, that should be determined at once in order that whatever precedent is established at this time may be along practical lines that can be followed hereafter. Accordingly we submit herewith the following which may be of service to your board and the people of the city in determining such policy:

Three General Heads

"The main investments in the city water business may be classified under three general heads.

"First. General. This will include wells, pumps, reservoirs, pressure mains, connecting pumps and development works with the reservoirs and distribution mains extending from the pressure mains which also serve as the main trunk line for the distributing system. These distribution mains would include all pipes larger than four inches in diameter.

"Second. Local. This includes four-inch service mains that serve property abutting on the streets in which these pipes are laid.

"Third. Personal or Individual. This includes service connections.

"There are at least four sources from which money may be obtained for investment in a municipal water plant.

"1. From the sale of municipal bonds.

"2. From revenues derived from the sale of water.

It rather looked as if the Elks' convention had arrived in Glendale ahead of schedule last night, if the number of automobiles parked in the vicinity of the clubhouse were any indication, but it was merely election night, with Brother Bills out to boost for their favorite candidates.

While the ballots were being counted entertainment was furnished by the Elks' orchestra and by a colored male quartet.

ALLIED FORCES ARE IN FULL CONTROL OF DISTRICTS

OCCUPATION IS ACCOMPLISHED WITHOUT INCIDENT; NO OPPOSITION OCCURS

By ED L. KEEN
United Press Staff Correspondent

LONDON, March 8.—Allied armies today invaded Germany to compel obedience to their reparations demands.

The rich manufacturing and shipping cities of Duesseldorf, Duisberg and Ruhrort submitted to allied control at 6 a. m. when British, French and Belgian troops marched across the Rhine to assume possession.

The occupation was accomplished without incident, German burgomasters having been instructed by Berlin to interfere in no way.

The German reparations commission, its proposals sternly rejected without debate when they failed to approach the demands of the allies, left London at 2 p. m. today. Foreign Minister von Simons at the last showed some bitterness, declaring that infliction of the penalties now would hamper future attempts. He had previously announced he would appeal to the League of Nations.

No German Ports Seized

BUILDING PERMITS FOR FIRST WEEK PASS $100,000

POSITIVE INDICATION OF CITY'S PROSPERITY IS SHOWN IN REALTY AND CONTRACTING

Building permits for March went over the $100,000 mark shortly before noon today when E. K. Daniels and H. E. Betz, who have the contract for building a one-story, three-store building for Philip W. Parker, added $7000 to the records.

The exact total of permits for the first week this month is $101,560, and the total for the year so far is $443,021. In another week it is expected that the half million mark will be passed and Glendale will then be on a fair way to an unprecedented building boom.

Watching the city grow by its building permits is the soundest proof of prosperity that one needs. Another good indication is the upward turn in the realty market noted in the last few days and more sales of motor cars.

NAME COMMITTEE ON SCHOOL PLANS

FIRST MEETING WILL BE HELD WITH THE CITY TRUSTEES THURSDAY NIGHT

A joint session of the Glendale grammar school board and the committee of nineteen appointed as the result of a mass meeting last week, will be held Thursday night at the Intermediate school at 8:00 o'clock, according to Superintendent Richardson D. White.

The purpose of this conference is to determine the needs of each of the different sections in the city school district and make recommendations to another mass meeting as to what improvements shall be made in the system.

It will take several weeks to formulate the comprehensive program of building which is expected to be recommended to care for the crowded conditions in the Glendale schools which prevail at present.

The committee is composed of the president of each of the ten Parent-Teacher associations or a substitute to represent that particular part of the city in which the respective schools are located, and the following prominent business and professional men:

Oliver O. Clark, Roy L. Kent, C. H. Crawford, H. V. Henry, F. E. Wilkinson, W. C. Wattles, Charles L. Chandler, the Rev. C. A. Cole and George H. Moore.

STOCK MARKET IS NOT YET AFFECTED

WALL STREET IS PAYING NO ATTENTION, EVIDENTLY, TO ADVANCE IN GERMANY

NEW YORK, March 8—The New York stock market today paid no attention to the allied advance into Germany and the reported counter revolution in Russia. Traders apparently believed these foreign events would not affect American finance or business.

Within a few minutes after the opening the entire list had gained until it was well above yesterday's close.

Steel common, unchanged on the first sale, was quoted at 81⅜. Crucible at 91, was up ¾. Atlantic Gulf, opening at 40, unchanged, gains ¾.

Asphalt, off ⅜ at 53 when trading began, immediately ran up to 56. Mexican petroleum, opening at 155½, off ¼, jumped to 157.

Prices later eased off somewhat. Atlantic Gulf was an active stock, quotations ranging between 40 and 40¾. Allied chemical made a new low for the year at 40, rumors of the forthcoming dividend action causing a slump.

Janitor Of School Now British Peer

SAN DIEGO, March 8—From janitor to British peer overnight. That's the experience of George Spencer Dowglass, 52, janitor of the Holtville, Imperial Valley, union high school today. Dowglass' father has passed away, leaving him a seat in the house of lords, which he will not assume. Instead "Lord Dowglass" will go to Ireland to settle up the estate and return to Holtville to enter the nursery business.

Suggests Ways To Cut State's Expenses

SACRAMENTO, March 8—The abolishment of some normal schools of the state, the Pacific colony, Sonoma state home and the stopping of appropriations for the University of California physics and educational buildings and buildings at Davis arm, were suggested by Herbert W. Clark, president of the Tax Investigation and Economy league here yesterday afternoon.

Water System Issue At Bay City Polls

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—San Francisco voters were staging a municipal ownership battle today with the purchase of the Spring Valley water system as the issue.

Mayor Rolph and many civic organizations are back of the movement for purchasing the water supply which would, eventually, be operated in conjunction with the Hetch Hetchy system which the city is building.

NOTICE THAT COPIES OF PROPOSED CHARTER FOR THE CITY OF GLENDALE MAY BE HAD.

Pursuant to the order of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, public notice is hereby given that copies of the proposed charter for the City of Glendale prepared by the Board of Freeholders and filed with the City Clerk on the 12th day of January, 1921, have been printed in convenient pamphlet form, and that such copies may be had upon application therefor at the office of the City Clerk in the City Hall of the City of Glendale.

First Session Held By Harding Cabinet

WASHINGTON, March 8—Drawing of a program for solution of domestic problems facing the government occupied President Harding's cabinet at its first session which lasted more than two hours today.

Harding had planned to have the session over in a little more than an hour and to go on to other conferences, including his first one with newspapermen. At 1 p. m., however, the meeting was still on and there were no signs of it breaking up.

It was understood that Harding outlined to the cabinet the conclusions which had been reached at conferences with congressional leaders. These were discussed and plans were laid for various departments to cooperate in the general program of legislation.

Statement Is Issued by City Manager

"3. From assessment on land.

"4. From direct payment by property holders or consumers.

"The investments in the water business might also be made from the general fund, but this is almost impossible from the fact that the general fund is never sufficient to take care of all the demands upon it for general city service, such as fire, police protection, street repair, etc.

"In the first instance when bond redemption and interest is derived from general tax levy all of the property in the city contributes in proportion to its assessed valuation. This method has never been used here. It is the method most generally used to finance the larger portion of the investments in municipal water plants by Southern California cities. There has been no money invested in the Glendale municipal water plant from taxation either directly or indirectly. These investments at the present time amount to $466,791.69.

Exempt From Charges

"All unimproved or vacant lots as well as all unirrigated acreage within the city of Glendale is exempt from all charges on account of the establishment of the municipal water business, notwithstanding the fact that an abundant supply of water is now available for every lot and acre of tillable soil within the city limits provided that distribution and service mains are installed in certain portions of the city lacking these at the present time. This has been done at a cost of $350,000 and before the development works in the Verdugo canyon can be completed and distribution mains laid that will insure good pressure in all parts of the city that will be served from the new reservoirs that are being constructed at the 720-foot level, at least $250,000 of additional bonds will have to be issued. When this is done we will have outstanding approximately $600,000 of municipal bonds on account of investments in the water business. This does not include distribution mains for that large unsubdivided area north and west of Verdugo wash. A supply of water has been developed sufficient for that area as well as the balance of the city.

"It is expected, however, that this section will form municipal improvement districts as the Grand View district is now planning to do and that bonds of these districts will be authorized and issued to finance the cost of distribution mains therein on the basis that the same percentage of the revenues derived from the water business in these districts will be devoted to bond redemption and interest on such bonds as is devoted to bond redemption and interest on the general bonds referred to above from the general revenues of the water business in the area of the city not included in these districts. This percentage, which is now 31 per cent, will increase as more bonds are issued.

"The time will shortly come if the present growth of the city continues and if that growth is adequately provided for, when possibly 40 per cent of the revenues of the water business will be devoted to bond redemption and interest, leaving 60 per cent to take care of operating expenses, including depreciation, minor investments and extensions and betterments.

"The policy of meeting all bond redemption and interest on these bonds is well established and was the basis upon which bonds were authorized. Therefore, it would not seem advisable at this time to change such policy, at least without such change be made by a two-thirds vote of the electors, and if this policy is not changed the additional $250,000 of bonds that will be needed to complete the improvements in the Verdugo canyon and for distribution mains should be authorized upon the same basis.

"I want to call attention to the fact that this is not the usual method used to finance such improvements. This method is not used by any of the larger cities of Southern California that have municipal water plants.

"In the second instance revenues are derived from the sale of water only. This plan was used in Glendale from the establishment of the municipal water plant up to the 19th of August of last year. Under this plan the owners of about 2500 vacant lots and the owners of 1000 acres of unirrigated acreage have borne no part of the financing of the investments in the municipal water plant. As stated before, it requires at the present time 31 per cent of the revenues of the water business to carry bond redemption and interest on bonds outstanding on account of this investment and this will no doubt be increased materially in the near future as more bonds are issued. Under present rates and costs the amount devoted to bond redemption and interest should not exceed 40 per cent of the gross revenues; 60 per cent should be available for operating expenses, including depreciation, and for minor extensions and betterments.

Slight Raise in Rates

"To maintain the ratio of from 30 per cent to 40 per cent of the revenues for bond redemption and interest on all investments for water development, reservoirs, trunk lines and large distribution mains as set forth above, a slight raise in present rates may be necessary if costs remain as at present. This is dependent, however, somewhat on the volume of new business in proportion to additional investments. Investments as set forth above do not provide for service mains and service connections (by service mains is meant four-inch laterals that serve abutting property only). These service mains when considered as a whole and with reference to the entire area that is to be served by the city water system require by far a greater investment than is required for development, storage and redemption as set forth above.

"There are 100 miles of dedicated streets in the city at this time. One-third of the area is yet unsubdivided into resident lots. At the present rate of growth and development the larger portion of this area may be subdivided within the next ten to fifteen years. That will add at least fifty miles of streets all of which will require service mains. At no distant date the water business will require service mains upon 150 miles of streets in order to fully serve the area that is now practically all under the present water supply. If these service mains were all installed today this installation would represent an expenditure of over $6000 per mile or approximately $1,000,000. About 25 per cent of this will be provided for by the distribution mains that will also serve as service mains leaving a net investment for service mains alone of approximately $750,000. Of this there are now in place three miles; this is four-inch cast iron pipe laid by the city, present valuation of which is about $20,000. Deducting this from the $750,000 set forth above leaves $730,000 as the cost of service mains that in all probability will have to be laid within the next fifteen years.

"If bonds are issued from time to time to cover the cost of these investments between $600,000 and $700,000 will be added to the city's bonded indebtedness on account thereof within the next ten to fifteen years. If the policy should be adopted of meeting the cost of these investments by the issuance of municipal bonds it should by all means be understood that bond redemption and interest on such bonds would be assessed against the property. In our opinion it would not be good business or equitable as between the users of water and the owners of real estate to require the patrons of the water business to meet this entire expense.

"While considering, however, as to whether such policy should be adopted or not it might be well to bear in mind that if bonds are issued to cover the cost of all investments that will be needed in the water business during the next ten to fifteen years that there will be outstanding approximately $1,200,000 of water bonds alone at that time and in view of the fact that there are so many other improvements yet to be made, some of which are vital to the welfare of the city, it would hardly seem advisable to devote such a large proportion of the city's bonding capacity to the needs of one utility.

"We will call attention here to the fact although it is generally known I believe that with the exception of the four-inch cast iron pipe referred to above all of the service mains or laterals in the city of Glendale consist of two-inch mains, most of which are old and if they are not now, they soon will be inadequate to furnish water under satisfactory pressure and four-inch drive pipe, a large portion of which has been in the ground from twenty to thirty years, all of which will undoubtedly have to be replaced within the next five to ten years. A large portion of it should be replaced now. When the system is supplied from the new reservoir about twenty-five pounds will be added to the pressure at that time. Undoubtedly many of these old sheet-iron pipes will give way and have to be replaced soon after this change to the higher pressure is made. To supply distribution mains for the entire area as set forth above within fifteen years would require an expenditure of $40,666.60 per year. In view of the foregoing, however, we can expect to expend at least $100,000 a year during the next two years to catch up with present and immediate future demands.

Carries Pipe Problem

"Almost every street improvement proposition carries with it a pipe problem and as every street improvement has practically been suspended for the last three years, it is evident that there will be demand for considerable road improvement as soon as readjustments in costs have been made. In fact there is considerable demand for this at the present time.

"There is no question as to the need for these service mains. The only question is as to the method of financing the cost thereof. In addition to the bond method mentioned above it might be well to consider the third source from which funds might be derived mentioned at the beginning of this report as applied to this investment. These service mains come under the second classification also set forth in the forepart of this report. They are local in every sense. No one in the city will receive any direct benefit from the laying of a four-inch lateral or service main except the owners and occupants of abutting property and a very practicable and equitable method of taking care of the necessary investment therefor is by direct assessment on the property benefited thereby.

"It is equitable because no one pays any part of the cost thereof except those benefited. It is practicable because those desiring such improvement have the matter entirely within their own hands and do not have to wait until revenue will permit or until the people of the city get ready to vote bonds. Such improvements can be installed whenever a majority of those owning the frontage within one block or more are ready to have it done. Under local improvement laws such improvements may be installed under the ten-year bond plan. These bonds carry 7 per cent interest and the principal is payable 10 per cent a year.

"In regard to the third classification, service connections. These are made solely for the benefit of the property and persons served thereby. Direct payment therefor by such persons or by the owners of such property is an equitable and practicable method of financing such investments. The outlay for a single service is small. When taken as a whole for a year the amount invested in service connections is a considerable sum. The outlay for this purpose for the first half of the present fiscal year was $15,777.93. The total for the year will approximate $31,553.86.

"With the foregoing before you, I respectfully submit the following plan for determining the policy to be established for financing investments in the water business:

First: Continue present policy as to all investments classified herein as general. This policy stated in brief is to finance all such investments by general bond issue supported entirely from revenues derived from the sale of water.

"Second: Continue present policy as to investments classified herein as personal or individual. In brief this is that all service connections be paid for directly by persons owning or occupying property served thereby.

"Third: Submit to voters question of policy as to financing investments classified herein as local. This will be for four-inch service mains only.

"Proposition No. 1: All service mains installed hereafter within the city of Glendale shall be paid for from the proceeds of general municial bonds and all bond redemtion and interest on account of such bonds shall be met from a tax levied on all of the accessible property of the city.

"Proposition No. 2: All service mains installed in the city of Glendale hereafter shall be paid for by assessment on property served thereby.

"I believe that this is a matter that might well be passed on by the people of the city. Either plan is practicable although one may have many advantages over the other. If these propositions are to be submitted to the voters of the city at the coming election on the 29th of March I would recommend that the following policy be adopted at once concerning the $100,000 bond issue that is asked for for distribution mains.

"Should proposition No. 1 carry and the policy be established to pay for service mains by bond issue, 40 per cent of the $100,000 of bonds if voted would be devoted to the laying of service mains, these mains to be laid on streets for which improvement petitions have been filed in the order of the date of filing said petitions, provided, however, that should a majority of the frontage protest against such improvement such street would lose its priority.

"Should proposition No. 2 carry and service mains be laid by local assessment and the entire $100,000 be available for distribution mains, mains will be laid as follows:

"Pacific avenue from Broadway to Arden avenue.

"Glendale avenue from Windsor Road to Palmer avenue.

"Colorado street from Louise street to Brand boulevard.

"Brand boulevard from Colorado street to Acacia avenue.

"Broadway from Glendale avenue to Brand boulevard.

"Windsor Road from Sycamore Canon Road to Verdugo Road.

"Broadway from Pacific avenue to San Fernando Road.

"Chester street from Doran street to Myrtle street.

"Oakwood from Glendale avenue to Verdugo Road.

"Verdugo Road from Oakwood to Lexington Drive.

"Garfield avenue from Brand boulevard to Glendale avenue.

"This will leave a considerable reserve that may be devoted to the laying of distribution mains in other portions of the city as the need therefor may develop. In case there is only $60,000 available out of the bond issue for distribution mains, the last three items on the list may have to be provided for by additional bond issue."

Bill Hart Denies That He's Engaged

LOS ANGELES, March 8.—William S. (Bill) Hart, cinema star, today emphatically denied his reported engagement to Jane Novak, film actress.

"The fact that Miss Jane Navok is now working with me and the fact that I have a great admiration for the lady as well as a high opinion of her ability as an actress has probably given rise to the present rumor, which, unfortunately for me, are positively not true."

Miss Novak has played opposite Hart in several of his productions.

Is Prosperity Hard to Describe? Cash Offered for Best Efforts

CITY WINS SUCCESS AND CAN HOLD IT 'TRADE AT HOME'

PATRONIZE HOME BUSINESS MEN IF YOU WANT GLENDALE TO CONTINUE ITS WAY

Prosperity—what is it?

It is here. We realize it, but for some it is hard to describe. That's the reason The Glendale Evening News is offering $50 in cash prizes for the best letters telling why Glendale IS PROSPEROUS.

The first of these letters will be published tomorrow.

Prosperity, essentially, depends on the attitude of the people. If they invest in homes in the town in which they live, if they build business blocks to accommodate newcomers, if they invite friends to reside in the "city of homes"—oh, there are so many things which make for prosperity.

But the one great, big prime requisite of prosperity is:

"TRADE AT HOME."

Let us repeat this recipe in larger type:

"TRADE AT HOME."

That phrase is the keynote of prosperity. Without trade at home the city would wane. It would lose its entity. So you must patronize home merchants if Glendale is to become a bigger and better place in which to live.

In turn, merchants must patronize the home paper, the established medium of advertising, to get before the public that message of co-operation which is so essential to success. And success is a synonym for prosperity.

Urges Straight Ahead

Possibly there are those here who are not doing all the business possible. There may be some who have lost heavily due to deflation of the market, but just read the cheery attitude taken by the Los Angeles Times this morning in urging "Southern California, Straight Ahead":

"There are abundant indications of an early return to normalcy, and to enlist the aid of all Southern California to swiftly realize the big possibilities of the future the hundreds of business houses and theaters in this section have already taken up the campaign cry and will display in conspicuous places wall hangers and miniature signposts modeled after the familiar Auto club highway signs and which repeat the slogan:

"'Greater Southern California—Straight Ahead!'

"Every city, town and village south of the Tehachepi will catch the spirit of the campaign keynote and send it reverberating to the border on the south and the Colorado river on the east."

Now, folks, if you get the idea, sit right down and write your letters to the Prosperity Editor, Glendale Evening News, telling of "Glendale's Prosperity."

Remember, first of the letters will be published tomorrow. Be among the first. And business men, have your ads in each of these Prosperity editions. It will pay you well.

Rules For Prosperity Week Letter Contest

In The Glendale Evening News' Prosperity Week $50 prize letter writing contest which opens today, the following rules will apply:

Subject—Glendale's Prosperity. Emphasize why and how this city outranks all others of its size in building and in business. Outline the advantages of living here. Or use statistical facts to reveal the growth of Glendale to a greater degree the figures heretofore have shown.

CLYDE DOYLE TALKS TO C. E. SOCIETY LAST SUNDAY

INTERESTING ADDRESS IS MADE AND PLANS OUTLINED FOR WHITTIER GATHERING

The Intermediate Christian Endeavor society of the Presbyterian church on Sunday had as its speaker Clyde Doyle, an attorney from Long Beach. The subject of his talk was "How Can We Make Our Lives Count for God?"

Mr. Doyle has been actively engaged in Christian Endeavor work for several years and states that no minute of that time could have been spent to better purpose.

After the regular meeting, the Intermediate group were joined by the other Christian Endeavor societies of the church. Songs for the coming county convention to be held at Whittier, March 18, 19 and 20 were practiced.

It is expected that fifty or more members from Glendale will attend and charter a special car for the occasion. The second day of the convention is to be known as "Glendale Day." On this day Glendale delegates will lead the parade and have charge of the program.

This oportunity to boost for the state convention to be held in Glendale will certainly be taken advantage of by a lively group of young folks from the church.

ALMA M. GEIGER LOCATES IN CITY

GRADUATE PIANIST BUYS HOME IN GLENDALE; SUCCESSFUL SOLOIST AND TEACHER

Miss Alma M. Geiger, pianist, formerly of St. Louis, Mo., has decided that Glendale is an ideal place in which to live and has purchased a home at 627 North Central avenue. Miss Geiger comes to this city well recommended. She is a graduate of the Weltmer College of Music of St. Louis, and is affiliated with the Sherwood School of Music of Chicago.

After several years of successful teaching in St. Louis, she located in Orange, Cal., and for the past two years has been teaching in that city and also in Santa Ana, where she was much in demand as piano soloist, accompanist and teacher.

Miss Geiger is a member of the "Cadman Trio," which for the past two years has been giving programs in many of the cities of Southern California. Miss Geiger will receive a limited number of pupils at her home studio, 627 North Central avenue.

Need Magazines For Former Service Men

An enthusiastic meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion was held last night at the post headquarters, where plans were talked over which will be of great benefit to the organization. Reports of assistance given ex-service men and their families and reports of entertainment tendered the boys at Thornycroft were given.

It was voted to make a call on the public for magazines for the ex-service men at Sawtelle and other hospitals who want reading matter. These magazines may be left at the public library, in care of Mrs. Danford or Miss Roberts.

Those present at the meeting last night included Mrs. James F. McBryde, president; Mrs. E. U. Emery, vice president; Mrs. E. P. Hayward, treasurer; Mrs. C. L. Bullard and cousin, Miss McKinley, who is the head nurse at the new Glendale Research hospital; Miss Elizabeth Bullard, Miss Olive Bell Emery, Mrs. L. T. Rowley, Mrs. Catherine Rowe, Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward, Mrs. F. W. Cowlin, Mrs. J. B. Sherwood, Mrs. J. O. Elliott, Miss Bessie Mock, Miss Laura Roberts, Mrs. Gerald Delgardo and Miss Katherine Delgard.

Demonstration Is Attended By Women

Glendale women who are interested in labor-saving devices will enjoy the demonstration that is being conducted by the Jewel Electric company at 200-202 East Broadway all this week. Miss Potts from the Hurley factory is here and is showing all who care to step into the store how easily the Thor washer and ironing machine are operated and how quickly they do the work. Mr. Wittmeyer was placing the machines this morning and the demonstration is in progress this afternoon. Miss Potts will be on duty from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. every day this week. Women who have not adopted all the modern aids to housekeeping marvel at the ease with which the laundry work, the most arduous of all household tasks, may be done with these two machines.

Banker Is Sentenced To Year In Jail

LOS ANGELES, March 8.—Peter P. Hovley, wealthy Imperial valley banker and rancher, must serve a year in the Orange county jail or pay a fine of $1000 for violation of the Mann act. He was sentenced late yesterday by Federal Judge Bledsoe.

Hovley pleaded guilty of transporting his niece, Mrs. Barbara Staalduynen, from Chicago to Los Angeles. Mrs. Staalduynen is a daughter of a sister of Hovley's wife.

During the 1920-21 season Holland will have approximately 70,000 tons of white sugar available for export.

ALLIED FORCES ARE IN FULL CONTROL OF DISTRICTS

sure will begin Thursday, when a customs line will be established parallel to the Rhine to a depth of thirty kilometers (about nineteen miles). German customs houses will be seized and a tax of 30 per cent will be levied on all German goods.

The presence of American troops in the Coblenz bridgehead complicated the situation somewhat. If the Americans are permitted to co-operate with the allies, the customs line will include their territory. However, should Washington order the Americans not to participate, the customs line will be drawn west of the American bridgehead.

Invaders Received Quietly

In exacting the penalties the allies feared there might be protests from German radicals. They were encouraged in this by the German delegations, who sent elaborate instructions to Berlin to see that any such outbursts were suppressed.

The fact that Germans in the occupied territory received the invaders quietly tended to calm any such fears.

British and French newspapers generally approved the new allied move. The French were almost unanimous in supporting the decision, some of them declaring that French troops should remain on German soil until the entire indemnity had been paid.

British Papers State Views

The British papers were not so unanimous, some declaring occupation will not help collect the money the allies need.

Although Marshal Foch did not receive his orders from the allied leaders until late yesterday afternoon and did not transmit his instructions to the troops until 6:25 p. m., a telephone message from Duesseldorf by way of Amsterdam said the French were on the move early in the afternoon.

Three shiploads had slipped up the Rhine past Coblenz before 6 o'clock, it was stated, and ten others were shown to be en route to the north.

Billeting orders had been placed along the route, it was said, and all preparations had been completed for the care of the soldiers.

U. S. Not Taking Part

The position of the American army of occupation at Coblenz was obscure, but it was certain they were to take no part in the advance. The question of American help in the establishment of a strong customs line along the Rhine caused the allies some worry.

They professed to believe Americans will aid them.

The allied plans called for occupation of Duesseldorf by the French, Duisberg by the Belgians, and Ruhrort by the British.

Allied Troops Cross Rhine

WITH THE ALLIED ARMIES, March 8.—Allied troops marched across the Rhine today. In the early morning, when the river mists were just beginning to thin out, long columns of French, British and Belgian soldiers, equipped and rationed for war, tramped over the bridges and into the German cities of Dusseldorf, Duisberg and Ruhrort.

Horse, foot and artillery, they advanced into the Ruhr valley, Germany's rich mineral basis. As they swung into the narrow streets of the old cities, people peeped out timidly from windows and doorways. The rumble of wheels and the clatter of hoofs, the sound of shrill whistles giving orders and the steady shuffshuff of thousands of feet over the cobbles was the music to which the allied armies marched deeper into Germany.

The operations were directed by General Degoutte of the French army from his headquarters at Neuse, opposite Dusseldorf. The French forces were under the direct command of General Gaucher.

During the night the French advanced to the center of the Dusseldorf bridge, where a barbed wire entanglement was placed. Pioneers went ahead and threw up earthworks and established a trench line beyond the bridge, just as if a lurking enemy were waiting to attack.

There was no sign of life, however, from the darkened city and the operations were completed in a strange quiet. Meanwhile, more French troops in river boats were coming up the Rhine, past Coblenz, where the United States army of occupation is based. They passed Coblenz in the night.

Before today's forward movement started, artillery clattered over during Seldorf bridge and swung into position where it would cover the advance of the army at dawn.

Then the French, British and Belgians went forward, bayonets fixed and ready for action, but there was no sign of resistance, not even a stray shot from a house top. Commanding officers commandeered houses for headquarters, their staffs were billeted nearby and in a remarkably short space of time the city was completely occupied.

At the same time, and in accord with plans prepared by the allied leaders when it was seen that the Germans would remain obdurate, French and Belgian troops marched into Ruhrort and Duisberg.

BALLOT QUESTIONS TO BE DISCUSSED AT LUNCHEON

MUNICIPAL MATTERS RECEIVE EXPLANATION AT FORUM OF COMMERCE CHAMBER

Topics for the Chamber of Commerce Forum luncheon, which will be held at the Masonic Temple tomorrow noon, will be those which appear on the ballot at the special municipal election March 29.

In this manner it is hoped to have the members of the Chamber go on record for or against the various issues so that the board of directors may throw the weight of the organization behind the projects favored.

Luncheon will be served at 12:15 o'clock, sharp, by women of the First Presbyterian church and a large attendance is expected inasmuch as Samuel G. Blythe, world-famous journalist, is slated as a guest of honor.

The newly-installed secretary, James M. Rhoades, also will be formally introduced to the membership.

Several Speakers Scheduled

Bert Woodard, chairman of the Board of Freeholders which drafted the proposed city charter, will speak on that subject.

Richardson D. White, superintendent of the grammar schools, will urge the Community Center bonds.

City Manager T. W. Watson will take as his topic the $100,000 bond issue for water mains. Another speaker will push the park bond issue.

All will be limited to ten minutes so that the luncheon will be over by 1:30 o'clock. At the close of the discussion a brief period will be taken to permit the asking of questions on any of the pending matters, then a poll will be taken on all of the projects.

ALICE JOYCE FILM HAS RARE CHARM

FAIRY STORY SCENES IN 'COUSIN KATE' AT GLENDALE ARE UNUSUALLY CHARMING

Kate Curtis and Heath Desmond forgot about clocks while they were telling each other fairy stories in Owlscot. They planned a woodland retreat for their life and love together where there should be no clocks at all.

The fairy story scenes in "Cousin Kate," an Alice Joyce special Vitagraph production, which is at the Glendale Theatre today and tomorrow, are replete with rare charm. All the qualities that served to make the original Charles Frohman play by Hubert Henry Davies for many years one of the most popular dramas on the spoken stage have been preserved in the motion picture version.

"Open Another Bottle" is the comedy while "The Isle of Jazz" is the scenic. A Pathe Review completes the picture bill while Madame Clement at the organ introduces "My Wild Irish Rose" as the overture.

FATHER BREAKS THE NEWS

"That young man of yours," said father as daughter came down to breakfast, "should be in a museum for living curiosities."

"Why, father!" exclaimed the young lady in tones of indignation, "what do you mean?"

"I noticed when I passed through the hall late last night," answered the parent, "that he had two heads upon his shoulders."

Demand Price Reduction

San Fernando valley ranchers who depend on the city of Los Angeles for their irrigating water are demanding that the price be halved on account of the losses they have sustained this year. The citrus growers charged discrimination and told of their losses. However, another news report recounts how fruit is being shipped by sea—a great saving over the rail rates—with the result that some of the citrus crop may be salvaged.

MRS. JAKE HAMON SEEKING REVENGE

DEMANDS CLARA SMITH HAMON BE HANGED FOR DEATH OF NOTED POLITICIAN

CHICAGO, March 8. — Mrs. Jake Hamon was en route to Ardmore, Okla., today, determined to avenge the slaying of her husband. Accompanied by her 11-year-old daughter, Olive Bell, she left to attend the trial of Clara Smith Hamon and do all in her power to obtain conviction of the woman.

"She wrecked my home, boasted of her conquest and killed my husband," said Mrs. Hamon. "I have no sympathy for her. She should be hanged.

"I will show she had affairs with other men and that her boasts of 'making' Jake were the vilest lies. I knew the hardship that made him. She knew the luxury of his life with him when he was 'made.'

"I don't propose this murderer, this destroyer, this boaster, this poser shall go free."

ACCOUNTED FOR

An old farmer and his wife drove to market one very wet day when large pools of water had formed in the roadway between the farm and the town.

On the return journey he met an old friend. "And how are you today?" was the friendly greeting.

"Very well, thank you," answered the farmer.

"How is the missus?" continued the friend.

"Fine," answered the farmer. "She's behind there"—jerking his thumb toward the back of the wagon.

"She's not there!" exclaimed the astonished friend.

The old farmer turned and looked over his shoulder. Then he coolly replied: "Humph! That accounts for the splash."

"Doctor," said he, "I'm the victim of insomnia. I can't sleep if there's the least noise, such as a cat in the back yard, for instance."

"This powder will be effective," replied the physician, after compounding a prescription.

"When do I take it, doctor?"

"Yon don't take it, my dear sir," was the doctor's bland reply. "You just give it to the cat in some milk."

NEED OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION TOLD AT CONVENTION

SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION OF GLENDALE DISTRICT HAS BIG MEETING

Church School and Community." He appealed for the new methods in Sunday School work, likening it to farm problems.

"The salvage of the church and Sunday School, as well," he said in closing, "depends on the efficiency of the adults. Then we can take this old world for the Kingdom of God."

H. L. Finley, retiring president of the Glendale District association, presided.

State Secretary Presides

At the afternoon session, which was marked more for its enthusiasm than attendance, State Secretary Hugh C. Gibson presided over the program which started promptly—as an example for Sunday School superintendents—at 2 o'clock with Roy O. Youtz leading the song and praise service.

Short and inspirational addresses followed, the first by Thomas V. Ellzey, international representative of Dallas, Texas, on the subject of "Evangelism, or Putting First Things First;" and the other by Rev. C. A. Cole, pastor of the Central Christian church who spoke on "The Need of Christian Education in Developing Childhood and Youth."

Problems Discussed

Among the problems discussed at the round table under the direction of Mr. Gibson which followed were:

How to handle students in the 'teen age; where to begin missionary work; necessity for the children's religious education; how to handle the primary department; cure for the absentee habit; what system of records are adequate and the necessity for Sunday School class teachers visiting homes.

Mr. Gibson stressed the new day before the churches in the matter of religious education and urged that it begin in the home with the family altar.

Home Matter First

In dealing with the absentee problem, he made it clear that it was a home matter first and then a proposition of having something for those attending Sunday School when they attended. He scored the teacher who came to class unprepared, declaring that the students knew it and lost interest in the lessons at once.

On the subject of punctuality, order and discipline, Mr. Gibson said that the problem should be reversed. Where there is order and discipline there will be punctuality, he declared.

"Begin on time and know your program," was his closing advice to the interested group of workers who then took up conference hour, the children's division being presided over by Mrs. M. R. Poundstone with Mrs. Pearl V. Gentry, state children's division superintendent, leading the discussion relative to policy and organization and the relation of the local Sunday Schools to the County Association.

Young People's Division

Thomas V. Ellzey presided over the young people's division in which Mrs. A. C. Life, superintendent of the division, University Methodist church, revealed methods for bringing out the latent talent among the young people in Sunday School activities. Roy O. Youtz furthered this idea by giving a number of ideas that catch and hold young people's attention while Mr. Ellzey spoke on the four sides in a young person's life.

District President H. L. Finley presided over the administrative, educational and adult division. The Rev. C. A. Cole of the Central Christian church described the pastor's place in the religious, educational program. Secretary Gibson closed the conference with an appeal for adults serving their community by doing their share in religious education through the Sunday School.

Many of the delegates enjoyed lunch at the supper hour, coffee being served in the banquet hall.

AUTO CLUB GETS LICENSE PLATES

FIVE HUNDRED SETS ARRIVE AT GLENDALE BRANCH FOR DELIVERY TO MEMBERS

Glendale's branch of the Automobile Club of Southern California has received 500 sets of license plates this week for delivery to members who ordered them several weeks ago, according to Stafford Harlow, local manager, who is attending to their delivery.

Los Angeles county was far in the lead in the number of motor vehicles registered in California in 1920, according to a report just issued by Charles J. Chenu, superintendent of the State Motor Vehicle department.

The county's registration for the year was 161,736 automobiles, 18,888 trucks and 6841 motorcycles.

San Francisco was second with a registration of 47,969 autos, 4894 trucks and 1656 motorcycles.

The registration for the entire state showed a total of 541,934 automobiles, 41,689 trucks and 20,564 motorcycles.

The figures show that since 1914, the number of automobiles in the state has increased 418,418, while motorcycles decreased from 30,417 to 20,564.

NO MORE TROUBLE

"Biddy," remarked the newly-wed Irishman, "go down and feed the pigs."

"Faith, and I will not," replied the bride.

"Don't be after contradicting me, Biddy," retorted the husband. "Haven't I just endowed you with all my worldly property, and if you can not feed your own property, then it's ashamed of you I am."

This was a new point of view, so off went Biddy. Presently she returned. "Have you fed the pigs, Biddy?" demanded her husband, sternly.

"Faith, and I have not," she answered. "I have done a great deal better. As they were my own property I have sold them, so they'll trouble me no more."

Telephone Earnings Are Told In Report

NEW YORK — Total earnings of the American Telephone and Telegraph company for 1920 amounted to $103,946,988, according to the detailed report issued.

Expenses aggregated $33,260,084, leaving net earnings of $70,686,904. Deduction of interest, dividends and appropriations for contingencies leaves a balance added to surplus of $8,444,423, as against $4,039,457 in 1919.

SPOILING "HISTORY"

Legends of the terrible deeds of Christophe, the black king of Haiti from 1811 to 1820, are so numerous that it is a relief to find one of them discredited in an article in the National Geographic Magazine. The writer of the article says that on a visit to Christophe's famous "citadel" a masonry chute was shown to him and described as a "death slide," through which Christophe hurled his victims down to the valley far below. "Subsequent investigation," he says, "revealed the fact that the end of the 'death slide' was less than twenty feet above the terrace and that it must have been designed merely as a chute for refuse."

In Tokyo, Japan, there is a registration of 3212 automobiles.

Big Game Protection Is Government Plan

WASHINGTON—Work of marking the boundary of Mt. McKinley National park as the first step in establishing protection over the region, which is described as the fountain head of the big game birds of Alaska, will begin as soon as the weather permits, the national park service announced.

Prospectors and miners actually engaged in prospecting and mining will be permitted to kill what game is needed for their actual necessities, but all other hunting will be prohibited.

POISONED BY ENVELOPE

From the ordinarily harmless method of moistening an envelope with his tongue and lips, Arlie King, 16-year-old employe of a Spokane department store died of pyemia, after an illness of seven weeks. According to a doctor who was associated in the case, the youth was stricken after sealing several envelopes at work seven weeks ago. Reaching home that night his lips began to swell and as the disease progressed the poison spread throughout his system, culminating in his death. The doctors say the deadly germ must have been on the envelope flap and when the youth licked the flap he cut his lip slightly and the germ entered his system through the small cut on his lip.

EUGENE BROWN HAS UNIQUE VIEWS ON POSTOFFICE

ARISES TO REMARK THAT HE WILL HELP HARDING PUT UP COZY BUILDING

Writing a touching little column entitled "You'll Remember Me," Eugene Brown of the Los Angeles Times staff, who resides in Glendale, makes the following remarks in a humorous letter addressed to "Dear President":

I happen to be living in the throbbing suburb of Glendale and we don't have a really and truly postoffice of our own. We are just an annex to the big doings. When Charlie Randall was in congress he promised to get us a postoffice, but somebody was caught bootlegging in Manila and he forgot about it.

So nothing has ever happened.

Isn't it a shame?

When I moved into Glendale a few years back we were a straggling community of less than two thousand amiable souls. Now we are a busy and bustling city of sixteen thousand men and women and eighty-five movie queens. The census man says there is nothing in the country to equal this growth.

He ought to know.

That is what I have done for Glendale.

So I think we will start a postoffice of our own.

I think I will locate it out my way. I live at the edge of town, but that is so much the better. It is a great mistake to put the postoffice in the heart of the city. There it takes up the room that might be used for a barber shop or a feed store. Put it at the edge of town and let the city grow to it. That helps everybody.

I think we could build a cosy postoffice for a couple of hundred thousand dollars—in fact, I would be willing to make a contract to put one up for that figure. In that way we could keep the money between us. I could also rent my country part of my garage to use as a postoffice until the greater structure was ready for its solemn dedication.

If you say so we will consider these little matters settled and you may forward the commission at your convenience—or shall we wait until the office is officially established?

BROTHERHOOD HAS CANDIDATES FOR SCHOOL BOARD

DR. HARRY V. BROWN AND CAPT. THOMAS WATSON CHOSEN AT LAST NIGHT'S SESSION

At a meeting last night of the Federated Brotherhood of Glendale, with President Arthur G. Lindley in the chair and William B. Kirk as secretary, various civic affairs were discussed. Among other matters was the one of election of two high school trustees March 25.

Dr. A. L. Bryant, who for twelve years has acted as a trustee, has refused to run for re-election. Also S. W. Shaull, who has served for a shorter time, declines to be a candidate.

The Federated Brotherhood of Glendale has definitely secured the consent of Dr. Harry V. Brown of 337 North Orange street, and Captain Thomas Watson, proprietor of the Glendale Sheet Metal Works on Glendale avenue, to run for the two positions.

Petition Is Presented

The petition follows:

Glendale, California,
March 7, 1921.

To Dr. Harry V. Brown and Captain Thomas Watson:

Inasmuch as there will be two vacancies on the Board of Trustees of the Glendale Union High school to be filled March 25, and because the high school is an institution of the most vital interest to the welfare of our community, and because we feel that in every way—in education, in interest, in experience, and in being patrons—you are highly qualified to fill the positions, we, the undersigned, do urgently request that you consent to become candidates for high school trustees, and we will assure you of our hearty co-operation.

DISTRICT JUDGE IS FACING REMOVAL

DERELICTION OF DUTY CHARGE MADE AGAINST JURIST IN NEVADA LEGISLATURE

CARSON CITY, Nev., March 8.—The state legislature's removal action against District Judge Frank P. Langan was started in earnest today when Langan was served with the legislature's complaint charging him with dereliction of duty.

The specific charges are that Langan failed to render decisions in several cases within the ninety-day limit set by law; that he lobbied for passage of a bill to raise his salary through misrepresentation, and that he failed to require filing of reports by the receiver of a bank.

Removal trial is expected to start before a joint legislative session Thursday.

SOCIETY NOVEL IS BASIS OF PICTURE

COSMO HAMILTON STORY TOLD ON PALACE GRAND SCREEN BY WILLIAM DE MILLE

For the third and last day "Midsummer Madness" is the feature at the Palace Grand. It is a marriage picture that is all thrill. Produced by William De Mille from a brilliant society novel by Cosmo Hamilton, the picture portrays the dramatic results of the momentary infatuation of a pretty woman, whose husband neglects her, for another man. Matters are complicated by the fact that her admirer is her husband's closest friend, and also the husband of her own girl-chum.

"Striking Models" is a two-part comedy as an added attraction while the orchestra is featuring "Angel Face," "Yankee," "Love Nest" and "Old-Fashioned Garden."

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week Mary Pickford in her latest eight-reel triumph is the stellar attraction. "The Love Light" is the name of the picture that again demonstrates she is the greatest artist of the silver screen.

Fashions In England Held Up As Models

BERKELEY — That American women should model after the women of England in the matter of fashions, is the opinion of Dr. Jessica Piexotto of the University of California. The university professor of social economics has recently returned from an educational conference in London, and she declares that the English women know how "to be neat, well groomed and attractive, without paying so much time to the shift of fashion."

"American women," she says, "follow the changes so that they must change their wardrobes completely every three months. The French woman of education goes to the other extreme with such stern simplicity that she is seen everywhere wearing black. She seems in everything the anthithesis of that type of Parisian which American women as a whole try to imitate."

Dr. Piexotto was one of the five American women chosen to make the trip to London to attend a conference of the International Federation of University Women.

WAGE REDUCTIONS MAY BE REFUSED

TEN THOUSAND UNSKILLED MEN OF SOUTHERN PACIFIC TO PROTEST PROPOSED CUT

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8—Predictions that the 10,000 unskilled employes of the Southern Pacific whose wages are to be cut April 16 will refuse to accept the reduction until ordered by the railway labor board, was made here today by R. W. Lang, general chairman of the Southern Pacific clerks' committee of the Pacific district.

Lang declared he was speaking for 90 per cent of the company's unskilled labor, whom, he said, are organized.

Under the wage reduction order, announced late yesterday, the minimum wage for unskilled laborers will be cut from $3.95 to $2.40 per day. Wages of freight truckers, maintenance of way employes and express and station employes will be reduced proportionately.

Promises To Veterans Not Kept, Is Asserted

ALAMEDA—The indifference of the American people toward ex-service men is becoming appalling, according to Rev. Charles Niel, who spoke before the meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Alameda post of the American Legion.

"The promises made the ex-service men have not been kept," said Rev. Niel who is also an overseas veteran. "The question of vocational training," he said, "was taken up and enthusiastically indorsed by congress, but typical of that body in many other respects, when dealing with the ex-service men, no opportunity was given by them that would permit the plans to be carried out extensively, with the result that since the war the government has trained 1500 men. On the other hand, one organization alone, the Elks, has trained over 30,000 ex-service men.

"Many of the boys are down and out. The government continues to neglect them. They are emphatic in saying that in event of another war 'let George do it.' With the ex-service man it has always been 'My country right or wrong,' and I am sorry to say that my country has been wrong in many cases."

English Thieves Get Millions Yearly, Report

WASHINGTON — Light-fingered gentry in England get away with millions of dollars' worth of freight in transit every year, Consul General Skinner has reported, on the strength of London Chamber of Commerce figures. British commercial circles, Skinner said, were "much exercised" over it and are planning steps to deal with the pilferers. Lloyds, he said, had passed claims of this kind aggregating nearly $3,000,000 in fifty-nine weeks, an average of more than $47,000 a week, and not including insurance company losses, uninsured property or the "enormous claims paid by shipowners." One shipping company alone met claims at the rate of £250,000 a year, he added.

Claims First Honors In Shipping Asparagus

ANTIOCH—Antioch has laid the claim this season to have been the first to market fresh asparagus. She claims to have put part of her crop on sale February 19. Several thousand acres in the Delta country of this section is devoted to the cultivation of the "grass." About 125 cars of asparagus will be shipped from Antioch during the season, approximately 80,000 crates, according to estimates made here this week. All important eastern centers are included in the itinerary of the shipments.

More than 21,000 carloads of California vegetables were sent out in 1920. Lettuce headed the list with 5764 cars. There were 2167 cars of cauliflower, 1440 of celery; a big majority of this from Contra Costa county's delta country; and 1500 cars of tomatoes. The total asparagus shipments from the state in 1920 were 490 cars.

Mr. Casey had recently obtained employment by a subway construction company; and one day, as he was leaving home, Mrs. Casey admonished him thus:

"Do you moind now, Malachi, ye don't get hurt. 'Tis mighty dangerous workin' in that subway.

"Never ye fear, darlin'," Mr. Casey reassured his spouse; "I've just borrowed tin dollars from the foreman, and he don't let me do any dangerous work at all, at all."
